

Man Drives Attacker From Home

During the late afternoon hours yesterday Sam Van Wagner reported driving an attacker from the home of Mr. Franklin Rottano of Cabrillo Ave. Mr. Rottano claims he was attacked no less than three times in the last three days. According to statements made, every time he sat down in his easy chair, a loose spring resented it and pinched Mr. Rottano. Mr. Rottano is quoted as saying: "This made me sore."

After driving above attacker from the home to his place of business, Mr. Van Wagner of Van's Mattress & Upholstery Co., 2083 Torrance Blvd., transformed the belligerent overstuffed chair into an easy going, easy chair. He respectfully submits this closing thought: "We pad only furniture—not prices." The phone, please, is Torrance 1194... It's an ad.

Nurse Course Enrolling Today Only

A one-year Vocational Nursing course is being offered jointly by Harbor Junior College and the Los Angeles Harbor General Hospital to help relieve the current nurse shortage by preparing persons to render vocational nursing services in hospitals, private homes, and for public and private health agencies. The classes will remain open for enrollment until tomorrow, M. W. Wadey, chairman of the division of Natural Science, said.

Under the terms of a new bill signed by Governor Warren, students completing the Harbor Tech program, which is the only such program being offered by a college in the general Harbor area, are eligible to become licensed vocational nurses. In the course, the student spends 20 weeks at Harbor Tech taking academic courses, such as Life Science, Nutrition, Psychology, and Nursing Procedures; and 32 weeks at Harbor General Hospital receiving practical training and experience with pay in Obstetric, Pediatric, Medical and Surgical Nursing.

Any person 18 years of age or older, or any high school graduate is eligible to enroll in the course to qualify for the State vocational nursing license. Persons planning to seek employment specifically with Harbor General Hospital upon completion of the course, however, must meet their specific age requirements, Wadey said. Persons interested in the course, which is open to both men and women should enroll at the local college today.

QUOTE 'N VEST

By Jack Treskes

I'm told that with bankers, money really isn't important. It's the principle of the thing.

Money really shouldn't interest me either, because being in the clothing business, you see, I'm living off the fat of the land.

But because it is remotely conceivable that there are some of us who do not disdain money, may I humbly suggest that Treskes is synonymous with value. Remember, if you want to look better, better look in TRESKES MEN'S WEAR, 1319 EL PRADO (between Newberry's and McCown Drug).

Movie Scheduled For Showing to AF Association

Clarence Hanson, squadron commander, South Bay Squadron of the Air Force Association, announced yesterday that the next meeting of the group is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Hollywood Riviera Club.

Highlights of the evening's program will be a showing of "Wings for Industry," color-sound movie prepared by Slick Airways, a national airfreight line. "Wings for Industry" is narrated by one of Hollywood's top names and aviation boosters, Jimmy Stewart, and is a 14-minute story of airfreight at its best.

Charles Schumway, Slick representative, will attend the meeting and conduct a question and answer period following the movie.

The Air Force Association is composed of honorably discharged Air Force veterans and is a civilian organization. Hanson invited all members and potential members to attend and hastens to add: "The ladies are welcome and should find this meeting interesting."
